

(a) Rocks either side of a locked fault are driven in opposite directions

(b) The rocks deform, storing elastic energy

(c) The fault slips, the strain is released and seismic waves radiate